Registration in—

Every student must be enrolled in the several courses making up his schedule within three days from the date of his registering in the University, at the end of which period his enrollment card, duly signed by his instructors, is to be placed on file with the Registrar.

Changes In—

If because of difficulties with the schedule, or if for any other reason, satisfactory to his adviser, the student wishes to make a change in enrollment, he may do so by obtaining a "Change of Schedule Card" from the Registrar, and complying with the requirements indicated on the card itself, as follows: These cards to be effective, must be made out, dated, and signed by the adviser of the student in whose favor it is drawn.

The date of use, except as to special faculty action, must be not later than ten days from the time upon which the student registered in the University. The Registrar and all instructors are forbidden to honor it under any other condition.

Withdrawal—

In case of a student leaving a course without substituting other University work for it, the act is to be regarded as a withdrawal upon fulfillment of the following conditions:

The act is to be initiated either by the student himself or by his adviser; the adviser after consultation with the instructor giving the course from which withdrawal is desired, must approve; the withdrawal is then effective upon filing the withdrawal card, properly executed with the Registrar. But withdrawals shall not be granted within one month of the beginning of the final examination period. The mark "W" in semester grade reports is to be held as applying exclusively to the cases coming under this paragraph.

Dismissal—

Dismissal from a course may be made at any time by the instructor in charge, and shall be effective after consultation upon the part of the instructor with the adviser of the student concerned. Such dismissal shall be considered the equivalent of a failure, and shall be indicated upon the semester grade reports by "E".

MINIMUM AMOUNT OF WORK ACCEPTED.

The failure on the part of a regular student to make nine hours credit in a semester shall automatically suspend the student from the University for the following semester; a second failure to make nine hour's credit in a semester shall permanently sever the student's connection with the University.

CHANGE OF MAJOR.

A student may change majors at the beginning of any academic year by filing a petition, indicating the proposed change, with the Registrar. Change of major at any other time shall be made only with the consent of the departments concerned, and after action by the University Faculty.

EXAMINATIONS

Any students detected in receiving or giving any assistance either in recitation or examination, shall be given zero for that recitation or examination and the case reported to the President for further consideration or punishment. But if in the judgment of the Professor in charge of the department in which the assistance was received, another examination is deemed advisable, it may be given with the President's consent thereto; and it is recommended that the maximum mark upon said second examination shall not exceed 75.

Students admitted to classes above the Freshman, but having deficiencies, may be allowed to carry an average of thirty-four semester hours per year, including work in the summer school, if any, but not more than eighteen hours may be carried during any one semester. In case this provision will not admit a graduation within a time proposed, no extra work shall be allowed. Students without deficiencies, whose record for the preceding semester shows a grade of at least "B" in two-thirds of their work, and no grade below "C," may be permitted to carry a maximum of eighteen hours; but the extra course or courses shall not count for graduation. 1. Of those desiring to fit themselves for the higher positions in the work of education, and who, as preparation for this work, seek to specialize along definite lines.

2. Of those desiring to utilize the opportunities offered by the University to gain greater proficiency in other lines of professional activity or public service.
3. Of those competent to undertake research problems in any department and to be of service in the advancement of knowledge.

Candidates for admission to the Graduate School must make formal application, upon blanks furnished for the purpose, to the Graduate Council, submitting diplomas or other evidence of the requisite standing.

In case of a candidate for an advanced degree, the major professor must be the head of some department in which, either here or in the university from which he comes, the student has taken a sufficient amount of work to fit him for graduate study. The minor may be taken in the under-graduate work. When made out, the study card, whether the student be a candidate for an advanced degree or not, must be submitted to the Graduate Council for formal approval. Otherwise, graduate students not seeking a degree are subject to the same regulations as undergraduates.

Assignment of Studies:—

The work to be counted towards an advanced degree must be divided between a major subject and a minor, the former receiving approximately twenty semester hours, and the latter ten. Six of the thirty hours may be at the option of the candidate's Special Committee, assigned to the thesis. All candidates must, on or before Monday of the third week before the last of the University year in which the degree is to be conferred file with the Registrar for the Graduate Coun-

8. The faculty shall consist of the president and full professors although for the present the heads of all departments may be recognized as members thereof. It shall have the immediate government and discipline of the university and the students thereof, and may make and enforce all necessary rules and regulations therefor. It may prescribe courses of study to be pursued and the text books to be used. Regular meetings of the faculty shall be held at least once a month during the session of the university, and a record shall be kept of its proceedings, which shall be open to the inspection of the board or its authorized officers at any time.

9. All officers of instruction and employes of the university shall hold office or other appointment during the pleasure of the board unless otherwise specially provided.

10. The salaries of the president and instructors shall be as follows:

The president, $3,000, annually, and the use of Collier Hall as a dwelling, on condition that he keep it in repair at his own expense, and free water and light from the university plant while being operated for university purposes;

Full professors, $1,600 to $2,000 annually;

Assistant professors, from $1,200 to $1,600 annually;

Instructors, from $800 to $1,200 annually; and Assistant instructors, from $250 to $800 annually.

Unless otherwise provided, the term of office of all instructors and all advancements or increase in salaries shall commence on the first day of October following such advancement or appointment, and their salaries shall be payable quarterly, in January, April, July and October of each year.

11. The president of the university shall be the general administrative and executive officer thereof and the authorized medium of communication between the board and officers of instruction, individually or collectively, in all matters involving the administration. He shall call and preside at all meetings of the faculty, appoint such deans and committees thereof as it may prescribe or as in his judgment may be necessary, and his consent shall be necessary to every faculty action affecting the policy or administration of the university. He shall confer frequently with the officers of instruction concerning their duties and work, and shall have a general supervision over the concerns of the university. He shall attend all meetings of the board and committees thereof and participate in their deliberations without the right to vote. He shall from time to time give to the board information in writing of the state of the university, and recommend to its consideration such measures as he shall deem necessary or proper. He shall see that the laws, rules, regulations and orders of the board for government of the university are faithfully observed.

12. As the efficiency of the university depends chiefly upon the quality and harmonious action of the faculty, the regents will hold the president to a strict but reasonable accountability for the fidelity, ability and efficiency of all officers of instruction, and to that end it will depend upon him to recommend suitable persons only for such offices, and to recommend such promotions and changes in salary as he may think advisable. It will also expect him to report promptly to it any indications of incompetency, insubordination, misconduct or neglect on the part of any officer of instruction and unhesitatingly to recommend dismissals when advisable. He may during the recess of the board, and with the approval of the president thereof, suspend any officer of instruction for insubordination, neglect of duty, or any other cause that to him seems sufficient. Any vacancy in the office of instructor during the recess of the board may be filled temporarily by the appointment of the president of the university with the approval of the president of the board.

13. The inability of officers of instruction to meet their classes or conduct their regular work shall be promptly reported to the administrative office, and permission for absence from town during the session of the university shall be obtained from the president of the university.

14. All officers of instruction shall furnish the president of the university from time to time, as often as requested, such information as he may desire concerning the progress, standing, work or conduct of any student under their charge, and shall at the end of each semester make out blanks provided for that purpose and file in the administrative office a report of the work of the semester, accompanied with any suggestions or recommendations as they may desire to make. Such reports shall be submitted to the board for its consideration, and be subject to inspection by any member thereof at any time.

15. As the time of each officer of instruction belongs to the university, no such officer shall enter upon or engage in any work or enterprise outside his particular university work of a kind or amount likely to lessen his full efficiency within the university.

16. There shall be appointed by the board a steward or business agent, who shall hold office during its pleasure. He shall keep in particular books provided for that purpose, full and accurate account of the receipts and disbursements of the university, and make a report thereof to the president of the board at the end of each fiscal year, or oftener if required, and to any member of the board at any time when so requested. He shall have charge of and look after all requisitions, see that they are properly prepared and presented to the president of the university and the president of the board for allowance and approval. All purchases and contracts for and on behalf of the university or any of its departments, except law, medicine and music, shall be made by, or under his direction, except when the board otherwise specially directs. He shall prepare all vouchers, those for claims payable by warrant of the secretary of state in duplicate, one of which he shall file in his office and forward the other to the secretary of state. He shall have general supervision and control of the buildings, grounds, engines, boilers, pumps, dynamos and machinery in the power plant, and all other property belonging to the university not specially used in the work of instruction. He shall, under the direction of the president of the university, have charge of all employes not engaged in the work of instruction, with power either to hire or discharge them at his pleasure.

17. Purchases to an amount exceeding $50 shall be made by contract after competition, unless the character of the material or articles renders competition impracticable. No purchases or contracts shall be made or liabilities incurred by any one connected with the university, except by the board or a committee or agent duly authorized thereto by it, unless upon requisitions in detail, made through the administrative office, upon blanks provided for that purpose, and approved by the president of the university and the president of the board. Any person violating this regulation shall be held personally responsible, and the amount of the purchases made or contract incurred by any such person, if allowed by the auditing committee, shall be charged to and deducted from his salary or wages. The president of the board shall sign in its behalf all contracts made by it.

18. All bills and vouchers shall be approved by the president of the university and at least two members of the executive committee. All warrants on the treasurer of the board for the payment of money shall be signed by the president of the university and countersigned by the steward, and the steward shall forward to each member of the board a quarterly statement of the financial condition of the institution.

19. A book shall be kept by or under the direction of the head of each department or person in charge of any apparatus or moveable property of the university, in which shall be entered as soon as convenient a complete list of such apparatus or property now on hand, or such as may hereafter be purchased from time to time, with the itemized cost thereof, and such memoranda in relation thereto as may be proper. With the aid of this book, a complete inventory shall be made at the close of each year, and filed with the steward.

20. No room and no part of the university grounds shall be used for any purpose other than stated university work without permission of the administrative office.

21. The steward is hereby authorized and directed on behalf of the board to institute and prosecute criminal proceedings against any and all persons wilfully injuring or defacing the buildings or other property of the university, and it is hereby made the duty of the faculty to expel immediately from connection with the university any student or other person guilty of wilfully defacing or otherwise injuring the property thereof.

22. The rules heretofore adopted and now in force governing and regulating the collection and disbursement of laboratory fees and the commencement fund are hereby approved and shall remain in full force and effect.

23. All rules and by-laws in conflict herewith are hereby annulled.

GRADUATE SCHOOL.

Organization—

The administration of the Graduate School is entrusted to a committee of the University Faculty called the Graduate Council.

Aim—

The Graduate Council, in the different departments, adapts its work to the needs:

1. Of those desiring to fit themselves for the higher positions in the work of education, and who, as preparation for this work, seek to specialize along definite lines.
2. Of those desiring to utilize the opportunities offered by the University to gain greater proficiency in other lines of professional activity or public service.
3. Of those competent to undertake research problems in any department and to be of service in the advancement of knowledge.

Provision has been made for publication under the auspices of the University of the results of especially meritorious work of this kind.

Admission and Registration—

Students holding the Bachelor's degree from the University or any other institution whose requirements for the degree are equivalent, and who desire to do graduate work, whether for an advanced degree or for no degree, are admitted to the Graduate School. Students holding a Bachelor's degree, but desiring to obtain a first degree in some other line, will register in the under-graduate department. Candidates for admission to the Graduate School must make formal application, upon blanks furnished for the purpose, to the Graduate Council, submitting diplomas or other evidence of the requisite standing.

When approved by the Graduate Council, the applicant pays the required fee at the Registrar's office, and receives from the Registrar, each semester, a study card to be filled out by his major professor. In case of a candidate for an advanced degree, the major professor must be the head of some department in which, either here or in the university from which he comes, the student has taken a sufficient amount of work to fit him for graduate study. The minor may be taken in the under-graduate work. When made out, the study card, whether the student be a candidate for an advanced degree or not, must be submitted to the Graduate Council for formal approval. Otherwise, graduate students not seeking a degree are subject to the same regulations as undergraduates.

Assignment of Studies—

The heads of the departments in which the student takes work constitute his Special Committee, which determines his course, conducts his examination, and upon completion of all requirements, certifies to the Graduate Council his having earned the degree. The head of the department in which the candidate for an advanced degree takes his major work shall be his adviser and chairman of his special committee.

Degrees Granted—

The University now offers the following advanced degrees:

1. Master of Arts.
2. Master of Science.
3. Civil Engineer.
4. Electrical Engineer.
5. Mechanical Engineer.
6. Mining Engineer.

Candidates for the degree of Master of Arts or Master of Science must complete at least one year (thirty semester hours) of study in residence, except in cases of graduates of this University who may by special action of the Graduate Council be given permission to do one half of the work in absentia. The work to be counted towards an advanced degree must be divided between a major subject and a minor, the former receiving approximately twenty semester hours, and the latter ten. Six of the thirty hours may be at the option of the candidate's special committee, assigned to the thesis. All candidates must, on or before Monday of the third week before the last of the University year in which the degree is to be conferred file with the Registrar for the Graduate Council, a thesis approved by the chairman of his special committee having charge. Within the week in which the thesis is filed the candidate shall sustain an oral examination by a committee of three appointed by the President of the University, two of which shall be the heads of the departments in which the student takes his work.

Students, who, during their candidacy for the Master's degree are engaged in teaching or other gainful employment, will be required to devote to the studies such longer period than one year, as may be designated by the Graduate Council.

The professional degree of Engineer is conferred upon graduates of the University, or of other institutions of like rank, who complete a year of professional study beyond the baccalaureate requirements of the department in which the degree is sought, and who present an approved thesis showing ability to do independent work.

In Absentia—

The following recommendations have been adopted:

1. That the regulation limiting the granting of the right to do work in absentia for the Master's degree to graduates of this University be so amended as to extend this possible privilege to all who are graduates from institutions of equal rank.
2. That the residence requirement in such cases be reduced to one-fourth year (Summer School) with the condition that all work in absentia for the Master's degree shall be done in regularly organized courses in the Correspondence Department.
